ABOUT

Seven years of making content work

I write, plan and direct content across brand, marketing and digital, then measure what it does. I move between copy, design, video scripts and campaign ideas without needing every step spelled out, and I stay hands-on from first brief to final asset.

BRAND IDENTITY

Concepts built from one clear idea

Newcleux: a tech brand about where ideas ignite. Concept statement, visual direction, purple and violet palette, minimal grid, and emotional keywords: intelligent, futuristic, precise.

Emoceanz: ocean and human emotion as one idea. Blue and gold palette, four tone words, and the tagline "Let Emotions Breathe".

Concept work. Brand thinking and direction by me; marks and visuals AI-assisted.

CAMPAIGN CASE STUDY

Stress Relief Duck: one product, two moments

AUDIENCE
Professional, stressed parents.

PROBLEM
Work stress eats into mental health and family time.

BIG IDEA
"Call a duck." Use the rubber ducking method (say the problem out loud to a listener who never judges) at work, then hand the same duck to your child.

FEATURES TO BENEFITS
Easy to carry: lives on your desk. Stress-bearing latex: survives long squeezes. Ergonomic: sits easily in the hand. Nostalgia: relief for adults, joy for kids.

CLAIMS
A partner who listens. Executive stress relief. Two generations, one duck.

CAMPAIGN CASE STUDY

The six-image story, from problem to meaning

1. Hook: the overwhelmed parent

2. Method: rubber ducking

3. Relief: a 60-second escape

4. Feature: the executive squeeze

5. Share: boardroom to bath-time

6. Meaning: full circle

The arc

Each image does one job. The first names the problem, the second offers a method, the third shows relief, the fourth proves the product, and the last two turn a work tool into a family memory.

My part

Audience and positioning, claims, the image plan, and the final copy for every visual. Visuals were generated with AI from my briefs.

SHORT-FORM VIDEO

Reel script: "The 60-Second Escape" (about 25 seconds)

| Time | Visual | On-screen text | Voiceover |
|---|---|---|---|
| 0-3sHook | Close-up: dad rubbing his temples at a desk, laptop glowing | Stuck on a problem? | "Stuck on a problem? Don't call a meeting. Call a duck." |
| 3-8s | Duck beside the keyboard; dad talks the problem through out loud | The Rubber Ducking Method | "Engineers have solved bugs this way for decades. Say it out loud to someone who won't judge." |
| 8-14s | Dad squeezes the duck during a call, calm and quiet | Silent stress relief | "Soft latex. No squeaks. Just calm, even on your toughest calls." |
| 14-20s | Home: dad kneels and hands the duck to his child; both smile | From boardroom to bath-time | "Then take it home. The same duck that cleared your head now makes memories." |
| 20-25sCTA | Product shot on white | One problem solved. One memory made. One duck at a time. | "Stress Relief Duck. Solve it. Squeeze it. Share it." |

Caption: Your best problem-solver is yellow, squeezable, and never interrupts. #RubberDucking #StressRelief #WorkingParents

Direction: warm light at home, cooler tones at the office, cuts every 1-2 seconds in the opening, captions on for sound-off viewing.

VIDEO SCRIPTS

Scripts I wrote for Instaccountant

SCRIPTWRITER

Uber Driver Tax Specialist Will Save You Income Tax and HST

An offer-led script for Canadian rideshare drivers. It opens on the driver's tax worry and moves to one clear action: tax filing for $80.

Watch on YouTube: youtu.be/GyC6lky_zg8

SCRIPTWRITER

How to File Taxes for Uber/Lyft Drivers

An educational script that names the five common fears drivers have, then answers them step by step, built in sections so it could be timestamped.

Watch on YouTube: youtu.be/qb-zADjPuc8

How my scripts are built

1. Hook

Name the viewer's problem in the first seconds

2. Answer

Give the method or solution in plain words

3. Proof

Back it with a clear, specific detail

4. Action

End on one next step

DESIGN AND VISUAL CONTENT

Infographics, concepts and social formats

Off-grid solar system explainer

Client work, CleanPowerStore. A five-part system turned into one clear, branded infographic.

Marketing strategy, in five steps

Canva infographic. A process made scannable with numbered nodes and one central idea.

August sky calendar

Social format. Six dated moments in one swipe-friendly, shareable tile.

Climate concept visual

Concept piece. A scorched land and a living leaf, with the flag as the turning point.

INFLUENCER CAMPAIGN CONCEPT

"Call a Duck": creators, directions and measures

Goal: 50K+ reach and 500 product page visits in four weeks. Audience: working parents aged 28 to 42 who want a small decompression ritual without losing time with their kids.

Working-parent creators

Show the boardroom to bath-time moment: a hard work day ending with the duck handed to their child (20-30s Reel).

WFH and productivity creators

"I tried the rubber duck method for a week": a day-by-day Story series with the duck on real calls.

Tech and developer creators

They already know rubber duck debugging. A short screen recording solving a real bug out loud with the duck.

DELIVERABLES PER CREATOR

1 Reel or TikTok, 3 Stories with a link sticker, and 1 pinned comment with the offer code.

GUIDELINES

Show natural use. No medical claims such as "cures stress"; say "helps you unwind". Tag the brand, use #CallADuck.

MEASUREMENT

Reach, saves and shares, link clicks, code redemptions, and the best-performing creator type.

Micro-creators (10K to 100K followers) for higher trust and lower cost. Each gets a brief, not a script.
